2011 Congressional Voting Record

THE 112TH CONGRESS:

The newly-elected House of Representatives Republican majority pursued in the first session of the 112th Congress an extreme right-wing agenda of tax cuts for the wealthy, repealing healthcare and financial sector reforms, slashing vital programs for the poor, and crippling labor-law enforcement. Meanwhile the Senate Democratic majority exercised critical damage control.

Emblematic of the House GOP agenda was Rep. Paul Ryan's (R-WI) budget: $4.2 trillion in tax cuts paired with $4.3 trillion in budget cuts, in everything – except the military. It aimed to destroy SNAP (the new name for food stamps) and all other anti-poverty programs; hamstringing environmental regulations, consumer product and financial protection, Wall Street oversight, safe food and drug laws, clean air and water guarantees; reduce funding for scientific research, disease control, federal law enforcement, education (Pell Grants, Head Start); and completely defund the Affordable Care Act, known colloquially as “Obamacare” (which they later voted to repeal, but the Senate rescued).

While much of the media treated Rep. Ryan's radical plan as a serious effort to address the nation's fiscal problems, it was in reality a cynical attempt at nothing less than the elimination all domestic functions of the federal government. It was as if the Preamble to the Constitution called only for “providing for the common defense,” but not to “create a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, ...promote the general Welfare....”

The non-partisan Congressional Budget Office didn't buy Rep. Ryan's voodoo-economics assumption that tax cuts would bring in more revenue, so for all its cruelty, it didn't even make fiscal sense. But of course bringing in more revenue was never the point. The Republican Party was following anti-tax zealot Grover Norquist's long-term goal of reducing federal discretionary spending to nothing but defense; bringing spending other than Social Security (to be changed in an unspecified manner), Medicaid (turned into a block grant of decreasing value), and Medicare, down from 12% of GDP in 2010 to 6% of GDP by 2022, and 3.5% in the long-run. While the budget would raise Medicare's eligibility age to 67, that wasn't the plan's worst assault on America's seniors: it would in fact end Medicare as we know it by turning the program into a voucher system to buy insurance in the unregulated private market—with no plans to match the voucher's value to actual medical costs.

In compiling its annual Voting Record this year, ADA has chosen not to emphasize legislative standoffs like the Ryan budget that passed on party-line votes in the Republican House and were similarly defeated in the Democratic Senate. Instead, we feature critical votes that did not divide purely on party lines. On one especially notable issue, 77 principled liberals stood up for an alternative vision of the nation's taxing and spending priorities. Progressive Caucus co-chair Rep. Raul Grijalva (D-AZ) proposed a comprehensive Progressive Budget that would force US withdrawal from Iraq and Afghanistan, while funding the U.S. Government by means of progressive income and estate taxes. Unearned income (dividends and capital gains) would be taxed at the same rate as earned income, which together with other tax reforms, would lead to a budget surplus in 10 years, something the Ryan budget would fail to do.

Several proposals arose in the 112th Congress that would contribute in small ways to our organization's long-term goal of stemming inequality and restoring middle class prosperity. These include ones that would institute fair trade policies and strengthen collective bargaining rights—issues important to organized labor, but which in fact benefit all Americans, because when union workers make progress, unorganized workers do too. The nation's income and wealth inequality have grown in large part because of the corporate war on labor unions, most conspicuously waged at the state level—but the 112th Congress Republican House majority was not slow to join the fray. Several votes were taken in both houses to allow workers on public construction projects to be paid substandard wages with taxpayer dollars. Fortunately, sufficient numbers of moderate Republicans (those with substantial numbers of union constituents) helped the Democrats to stand up for living wages on federal construction sites.

Where the Obama administration took steps through the National Labor Relations Board and the National Mediation Board to support collective bargaining rights, the House tried to cancel those reforms. For years unionization of some airline and railway workers has been impeded by a rule that counted every worker who failed to cast a ballot in a representation election as a “no” vote. The NMB ruled that union recognition votes should be counted in the usual manner, by a majority of votes cast. The House-passed FAA reauthorization bill would have overturned that rule, returning to the earlier anti-union, undemocratic rule. By stopping the bill in the Democratic Senate, the Obama Administration's rule was preserved. The House also tried to inflict additional damage to collective bargaining by lengthening the period required before holding a representation election, thus allowing more time for employer intimidation. Another bill would have deprived Transportation Security Administration employees of collective bargaining rights. The Senate spared us.

Another right-wing strategy to impede unions was to slash funds for the already-under-funded National Labor Relations Board. Moderate Republicans helped block this Republican majority effort. Since the 1970s, private sector unions have been the primary target of corporations and their right-wing Republican allies. Having inflicted alarming damage, they have turned to demonizing and crippling public sector unions. At the state level, it's teachers, police and firefighters who play the scapegoat; at the federal level it's the entire federal workforce (always referred to by the pejorative word “bureaucrats”) who are subject to wage freezes and other demoralizing insults.

Fair trade, in contrast to so-called “free trade,” continues to be an important goal for liberals who care about preserving American jobs, protecting the environment, and ensuring fair treatment of workers here and abroad. Congress approved trade agreements negotiated by the Obama administration with Colombia and Korea that will help ship jobs overseas and give corporations added power to challenge domestic laws and regulations that they don't like. For example, the world trade governing bodies that are answerable to corporations—not to democratically-elected governments—can undermine environmental and worker protections by claiming they impede trade. Sadly, liberals stood alone on this issue.

Moderate Republicans in the Senate stood up for congressional sanity by helping defeat a Constitutional Balanced Budget Amendment passed by the Republican House. The deceptively-named amendment would tie legislators' hands by requiring a vote of 60% of each House of Congress to raise the debt limit, increase spending over revenue, or to increase taxes. It's the kind of minority-rule straitjacket that has hobbled many state budgets for years.

As usual, the Senate rules proved controversial and undemocratic. One Senator alone can block consideration of legislation, and the minority leadership can announce that it intends to filibuster a bill, and thereby require 60 votes to even consider it. In the 111th Congress, the Republicans filibustered more than 100 times, blocking good progressive legislation passed by then-Speaker Nancy Pelosi's (D-CA) House of Representatives. In this Congress the Democratic majority in the Senate was able to block harmful legislation sent over by the House, but the minority in the Senate could filibuster to block the Senate from taking positive legislative action. This session the Senate Republican leadership also made clear their intention to filibuster important Obama Administration appointees. When no Republicans would join the Democrats to reach the 60 votes needed to close off debate (“cloture”), nominations failed. The ADA voting record reflects one such thwarted nomination, that of the highly qualified Goodwin Liu to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Of major importance, the Republican minority in the Senate inflicted serious damage to the nation's economic recovery. The Senate Republicans filibustered President Obama's proposed American Jobs Act that would have allowed spending on infrastructure, such as schools, roads, and bridges – essential to pull the country out of the Great Recession. They filibustered another measure essential to bolstering the economy, a bill to help states that have been forced to lay off teachers, police, and firefighters. They also blocked a bill to extend payroll tax cuts, responsibly paid for by means of a 3.1% surtax on millionaires.

ADA honors 4 Senators as Heroes with 100% ADA voting records. Twenty-two additional stalwart liberals earned 95%. Although there were no zeroes in the Senate, 8 Senators racked up an abysmal 5%: the two Alabama Republicans, Senators Session and Shelby, two Oklahoma Republicans, Senators Coburn and Inhofe, Senator Grassley (R-IA), Senator Vitter (R-LA), Senator Rubio (R-FL), and Senator R. Johnson (R-WI).

In the House, ADA honors 27 Heroes who voted 100% for ADA. They were joined by an additional 29 stalwart liberal Representatives who earned 95%.

HOUSE VOTE DESCRIPTIONS

1. House Vote 14 - HR 2: Health Care Overhaul Law Repeal - Passage.

Vote to repeal the Affordable Care Act that would improve coverage and provide consumer protections. Repeal would cost 1.2 million young adults coverage through their parents' health plans, mean higher drug prices for 2.7 million seniors, eliminate preventive services for 44 million seniors, and discard measures to help control health care costs. Health insurance companies would be able to continue to deny coverage based on pre-existing conditions. Passed 245-189: Jan. 19, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

2. House Vote 36 - HR 514: Patriot Act Extension.

Extension for 10-month of three expiring provisions of the Patriot Act giving the government sweeping authority to spy on individuals inside the United States and, in some cases, without any suspicion of wrongdoing. It did not include amendments favored by advocates of civil liberties. Passed 275-144: Feb. 14, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

3. House Vote 75 - HR 1: Fiscal 2011 Continuing Appropriations - National Labor Relations Board.

The amendment offered by Rep. Price (R-GA) to the fiscal year 2011 "Full-Year Continuing Appropriations Act," (H.R. 1) would have eliminated $233 million in funding for staffing and expenses of the National Labor Relations Board. The NLRB enforces the National Labor Relations Act and works to guarantee the rights of employees to collectively bargain. Failed 176-250: Feb. 19, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

4. House Vote 93 - HR 1: Fiscal 2011 Continuing Appropriations - Planned Parenthood Funding.

A vote on an amendment by Rep. Mike Pence (R-IN) prohibiting Planned Parenthood from receiving federal funds. Planned Parenthood provides a variety of female health care services, and this amendment would have banned funding for all of these services, including wellness tests, breast exams, HIV testing and educational programs. Passed 240-185: Feb. 18, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

5. House Vote 95 - HR 1: Fiscal 2011 Continuing Appropriations - Library Activity Surveillance.

The Nadler (D-NY) amendment would partially restore First and Fourth Amendment rights eroded by the Patriot Act and protect library and bookstore records from suspicionless government searches under Section 215 of the Patriot Act. It would require traditional tools of grand jury subpoena or warrants to obtain sensitive personal information. Failed 196-231: Feb. 18, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

6. House Vote 133 - HR 1: Fiscal 2011 Continuing Appropriations - Federal Employee Step Increases.

A vote on the proposed amendment by Rep. Darrell Issa (R-CA) to prohibit federal funds for "step increases" in federal workers' salaries, given for seniority. Failed 191-230: Feb. 19, 2011. A yes vote is -.

7. House Vote 193 - H Con Res 28: Afghanistan Withdrawal - Adoption.

Required withdrawal of U.S. forces from Afghanistan within 30 days of adoption or by December 31, 2011. Failed 93-321: March 17, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

8. House Vote 204 - HR 471: D.C. School Voucher Program - Passage.

A vote to authorize and expand federal funding for private and religious school vouchers in the District of Columbia, violating D.C. Home Rule. Passed 225-195: March 30, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

9. House Vote 217 - HR 658: FAA Reauthorization - National Mediation Board Rule.

Would uphold Federal Mediation Board's rule permitting airline and railroad workers to choose a union by majority of those voting (no longer counting all abstentions as opposed). Failed 206-220: April 1, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

10. House Vote 252 - H J Res 37: "Net Neutrality" Disapproval - Passage.

A joint resolution proposed by Rep. Greg Walden (R-OR) that would overturn the Federal Communications Commission "net neutrality" rules that put the federal government in charge of managing traffic on the Internet. "Net Neutrality" regulations prohibit Internet service companies from charging higher fees to smaller online content providers for service that enables their web sites to download more quickly. Passed 240-179: April 8, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

11. House Vote 274 - H Con Res 34: Fiscal 2012 Budget Resolution - Congressional Progressive Caucus Substitute.

Rep. Paul Grijalva (D-AZ) substitute budget would return to Clinton-era tax rates, index alternative minimum tax, rescind upper-income tax cuts, create progressive estate tax, tax capital gains and qualified dividends as ordinary income. Would also add a public option to health care law, increase spending on education, infrastructure, research and development, projecting a budget surplus within 10 years. Failed 77-347: April 15, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

12. House Vote 277 - H Con Res 34: Fiscal 2012 Budget Resolution - Adoption.

A vote to slash funding for education, dismantle Medicaid, and turn Medicare into a voucher system. Passed 235-193: April 15, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

13. House Vote 395 - HR 2017: Fiscal 2012 Homeland Security Appropriations - Davis-Bacon Wage Requirements.

Rep. Gosar (R-AZ) amendment would repeal Davis-Bacon prevailing wage requirement on federally funded homeland security projects, so contractors could bid low by under-paying workers. Failed 183-234: June 2, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

14. House Vote 528 - HR 2219: Fiscal 2012 Defense Appropriations - Military Chaplain "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" Repeal Training.

A vote on the Huelskamp (R-KS) amendment that would bar the use of federal funds to train military chaplains in implementing the repeal of "Don't Ask, Don't Tell." Passed 236-184: July 8, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

HOUSE VOTE DESCRIPTIONS

15. House Vote 621 - HR 1315: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Overhaul - Passage. Bill to reduce the power of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) by lowering the number of votes needed to override CFPB rules and allow the Council to override regulations. Passed 241-173: July 21, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

16. House Vote 650 - HR 1938: Keystone XL Oil Pipeline Permit - Passage. Passage of the bill that would require the Obama administration to make a decision on permitting the Keystone XL oil pipeline within 30 days after the final environmental impact statement is issued or by Nov. 1, whichever is earlier. Passed 279-147: July 26, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

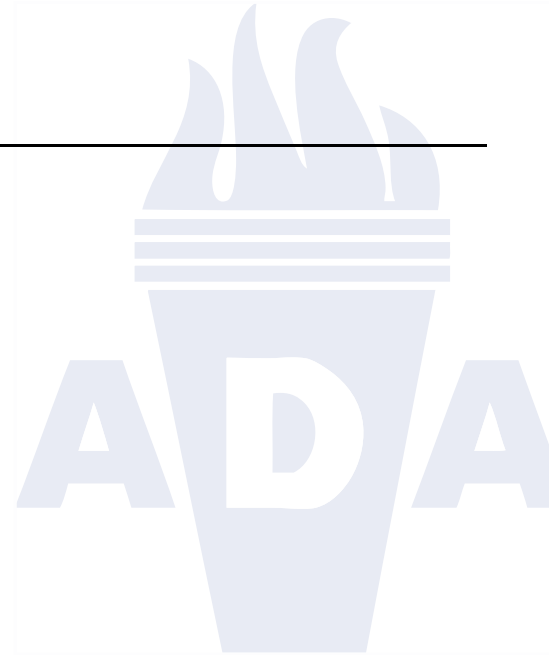

17. House Vote 783 - HR 3080: South Korea Trade Agreement - Passage. A vote on the largest trade pact since NAFTA. With a predicted cost of 159,000 U.S. jobs in the first seven years, the trade agreement would ignore international labor organization standards and contains no safeguards against currency manipulation. The U.S. International Trade Commission also predicted that FTA would increase the U.S. trade deficit. Passed 278-151: Oct. 12, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

18. House Vote 858 - H J Res 2: Balanced-Budget Amendment - Passage. Proposes an amendment to the US Constitution requiring a balanced budget beginning in the 2nd year after ratification. It would require a three-fifths vote in both houses to raise the debt limit, prohibit outlays to exceed receipts for that year, authorizes waivers for declaration of war or military conflict. It would prevent timely action to respond to recessions. Failed 261-165: Nov. 18, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

19. House Vote 869 - HR 3094: Union Representation Elections - Passage. Would have permitted delay in union elections, thus allowing more intimidation and harassment of employees, including hiring union-busting consultant companies. Passed 235-188: Nov. 30, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

20. House Vote 888 - HR 3010: Regulatory Rulemaking Criteria - Passage. Would add more than 60 additional analyses to an already lengthy and complicated rulemaking process and expand judicial review, thus inviting increased litigation. It would effectively stop federal agencies from moving forward with setting basic minimum protections, such as those for Americans' health and safety. It would override the implementation of existing laws, such as environmental protection, the Clean Water Act, and the Occupational Safety & Health Act. Passed 253-167: Dec. 2, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

This voting record is offered only as a guide in judging the legislative performance of Members of Congress (MOC), and has several inherent limitations. It is no measure of a legislator's work in committee. It does not reflect the failure of Congress to deal with major issues, or the individual's degree of responsibility. It does not reflect a legislator's lifetime of work.

The methodology of the ADA Voting Record calls for Members who miss a vote, for whatever reason, to be penalized in their final score. Therefore, a Member who agreed with ADA's position on 19 votes but was absent on the 20th would receive a score of 95%.

SENATE VOTE DESCRIPTIONS

1. Senate Vote 9 - S 223: FAA Reauthorization - Health Care Repeal.

A vote on a motion to waive the Senate's budget rules and pass an amendment by Sen. Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-KY) that would have repealed the landmark health care reform law that prohibited health insurance companies from denying coverage to individuals with pre-existing medical conditions and provided health insurance coverage to 30 million uninsured Americans. The amendment would also limit funds for Pell Grants and community colleges. Failed 47-51: Feb. 2, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

2. Senate Vote 17 - S 223: FAA Reauthorization - Transportation Security Administration Collective Bargaining.

Senator Wicker (R-MS) amendment would exclude Transportation Security Administration (TSA) employees from collective bargaining rights of federal employees. Failed 47-51: Feb. 15, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

3. Senate Vote 22 - S 223: FAA Reauthorization - Occupational Safety.

Motion to Table (kill) Rand Paul (R-KY) amendment. The vote upholds FAA-OSHA agreement to provide some Occupational Safety and Health Administration protection to flight crews. Motion agreed to 52-47: Feb. 17, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

4. Senate Vote 36 - HR 1: Fiscal 2011 Continuing Appropriations - Passage.

The bill would provide continuing appropriations through fiscal 2011 for all government agencies; however, it would also reinstate the District of Columbia ban on abortions, eliminate Title X family planning, defund Planned Parenthood, reinstate the global gag rule, and eliminate funding for the UN Population Fund. Failed 44-56: March 9, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

5. Senate Vote 54 - S 493: Small Business Research - Prohibition on EPA Regulations.

An amendment proposed by

Sen. Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-KY) to prohibit the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency from regulating carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases under the Clean Air Act. Failed 50-50: April 6, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

6. Senate Vote 60 - H Con Res 36: Fiscal 2011 Planned Parenthood Funding - Adoption.

A vote to eliminate funding for Planned Parenthood, denying family-planning and basic health care services to millions of American women. Failed 42-58: April 14, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

7. Senate Vote 72 - S 940: Oil Production Tax Breaks - Motion to Proceed.

Bill to repeal various tax breaks for oil companies that have gross annual receipts of more than $1 billion and that produce an average of 500,000 or more barrels each year. Motion failed 52-48 (60 votes required to pass): May 17, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

8. Senate Vote 74 - : Liu Nomination - Cloture.

Motion to end debate on the nomination of Goodwin Liu to the Ninth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals. Motion failed 52-48 (60 votes required to pass): May 19, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

9. Senate Vote 77 - H Con Res 34: House Fiscal 2012 Budget Resolution - Motion to Proceed.

Motion to proceed on a resolution that would severely cut the social safety net (including education, Medicaid, and Medicare), lowering the budgetary authority to $2.859 trillion, much lower than the discretionary spending limit in the Budget Control Act of 2011. Motion rejected 40-57: May 25, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

10. Senate Vote 87 - S 782: Economic Development - Small-Business Regulations.

Senator Snowe (R-ME) amendment to add new costly and burdensome requirements that would make it harder for agencies like the Occupational Safety and Health Administration and Consumer Product Safety to issue regulations to protect workers, consumers, and the public. Rejected 53-46: June 9, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

11. Senate Vote 123 - S 365: Debt Limit - Motion to Concur.

A bill to allow a debt increase of up to $2.5 trillion with no spending reduction required in Fiscal Year 2012 and to create a bipartisan "supercommittee" of twelve members of Congress that would meet in secret to negotiate a deficit reduction of $1.2 trillion over ten years. The bill also would require an automatic reduction of $1.2 trillion over ten years if no other agreement is reached by 2013. Motion agreed to 74-26: Aug. 2, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

12. Senate Vote 160 - S 1660: Job Creation - Cloture.

A vote to provide roughly $245 billion in tax incentives, more than $100 billion in new infrastructure spending on schools, roads, and bridges, and aid to states to help reduce unemployment. The cost would be offset by a 5.6% increase in tax rates for certain upper-income tax filers. Motion failed 50-49 (60 votes required to pass): Oct. 11, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

13. Senate Vote 161 - HR 3080: South Korea Trade Agreement - Passage.

A vote on the largest trade pact since NAFTA. With a predicted cost of 159,000 U.S. jobs in the first seven years, the trade agreement would ignore international labor organization standards and contains no safeguards against currency manipulation. The U.S. International Trade Commission predicted that FTA would increase the U.S. trade deficit. Passed 83-15: Oct. 12, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

14. Senate Vote 173 - HR 2112: Fiscal 2012 Agriculture, Commerce-Justice-Science, Transportation-HUD Appropriations - National Criminal Justice Commission.

An amendment by Senator Webb (D-VA) to establish a National Criminal Justice

Commission. Would establish a commission to study public and private prisons and the experiences of persons returning to their communities after incarceration in order to better understand recidivism. Failed 57-43 (60 votes required for passage): Oct. 20, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

15. Senate Vote 176 - Bryson Nomination - Confirmation. A vote to confirmed the nomination of John Bryson as Secretary of Commerce. Bryson's diverse experience includes positions as a former chief of power conglomerate Edison International, co-founder of the Natural Resources Defense Council, and president of the California Public Utilities Commission. Confirmed 74-26: Oct. 20, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

16. Senate Vote 177 - S 1723: Public Employee Jobs Funding - Cloture. The bill would allow grants to states to hire teachers, to support community policing, and to hire and rehire career law enforcement personnel. Failed 50-50 (60 votes needed for passage): Oct. 20, 2011.

A yes vote is a +.

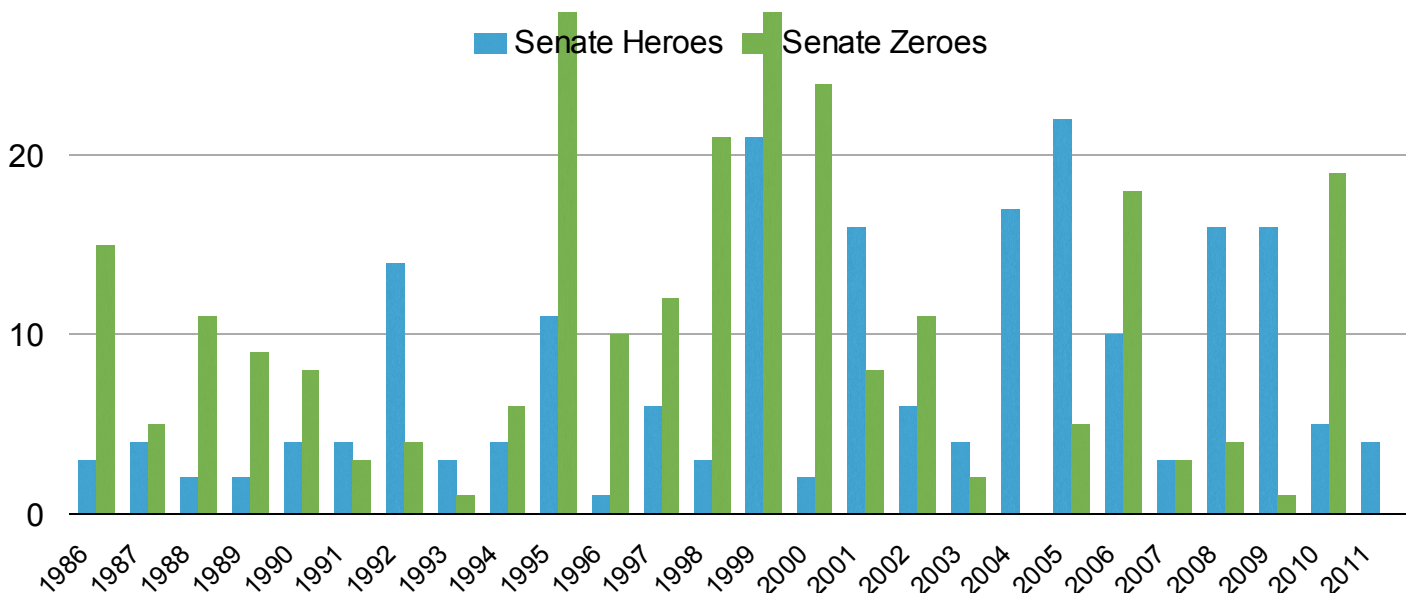

17. Senate Vote 180 - HR 2112: Fiscal 2012 Agriculture, Commerce-Justice-Science, Transportation-HUD Appropriations - Mortgage Loan Limits. Menendez (D-NJ) amendment proposed to extend loan limits for programs of the government-sponsored enterprises, the Federal Housing Administration, and the Veterans Affairs Administration, and for other purposes. Passed 60-38 (60 votes required to pass): Oct. 20, 2011. A yes vote is a +.

18. Senate Vote 219 - S 1917: Payroll Tax Relief Expansion - Motion to Proceed. Extend and expand for a year the employee and employer share of payroll tax at 3.1% for the first $5 million of a company's wage costs. This would be paid for by a 3.25% surtax on annual incomes over $1 million. Failed 50-48 (60 votes required to pass): Dec. 1, 2011.

19. Senate Vote 228 - S J Res 24: Balanced-Budget Amendment - Passage. Bill would mandate that spending equal revenue, with a three-fifths roll call vote in each chamber needed to authorize additional spending, making it nearly impossible to respond to catastrophic events or future recessions. Failed 21-79: Dec. 14, 2011. A yes vote is a -.

20. Senate Vote 235 - HR 2055: Fiscal 2012 Omnibus Appropriations - Conference Report. Bill would provide small increases for IDEA special education and Title I, preserve maximum Pell Grant awards, continue or increased funding for key programs, and reject efforts to defund the Affordable Care Act and attack worker rights. Passed 67-32: Dec. 17, 2011. A yes vote is a +.
